Leadership Consultant - Certified

The Kentucky Educational Development Corporation (KEDC) seeks a leadership consultant to assist member districts in their efforts to build strong educational systems in order to allow every student to achieve success.

The successful candidate must have a documented track record of success as a principal and/or District Administrator.

- Must have been a principal in the same school for at least four consecutive years or district level administration.
- Proven record of success; proven increase of test scores and benchmarks.

Applicant should provide/demonstrate:

- Evidence of parental support/community involvement in school initiatives;
- Record of success of innovative, research-based instructional programs that have been or could be replicated in other schools;
- K-12 certification as a principal; if certification was earned through a program of fewer than 60 hours, additional leadership hours may be required;
- Evidence of knowledge of issues and challenges affecting education in Kentucky;
- Evidence of knowledge of all content areas;
- Evidence of professional growth, beyond that required for position;
- Leadership and facilitation skills to include Literacy and/or Math;
- Satisfactory evaluations for each of the last four years as principal and/or Administrator;
- Willingness to travel, including overnight;
- Understanding of Kentucky school law, regulation and policy;
- Proficient technology skills;
- Evidence of guidance, support, and leadership resources.

If the applicant has not been a principal within the past five years, he or she will be asked to demonstrate/document knowledge of Senate Bill 1 / Unbridled Learning and Accountability Model.

To apply: Submit resume and minimum three professional references via mail using the above address, attention: Terri White, or email terri.white@kedc.org.

Additionally, candidate should submit a proposal outlining how to offer regional consulting services effectively to a geographically diverse customer base and expected outcomes.

Accepting Resumes through July 13, 2012.
